INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
CHAC

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of CHAC (formerly known as Community Health Awareness Council) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2016 and 2015, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of CHAC as of June 30, 2016 and 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2016 and 2015

Note A - Nature of Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of organization

CHAC (formerly known as Community Health Awareness Council) was organized on May 15, 1973, as a joint powers agency whose members are the City of Los Altos, the City of Mountain View, the Town of Los Altos Hills, the Los Altos School District, the Mountain View-Whisman School District and the Mountain View-Los Altos Union High School District. CHAC receives funding from its members, the County of Santa Clara and other contributors.

CHAC provides treatment services and prevention and intervention counseling services concentrating on positive alternatives to health abuse and self-destructive behaviors for the residents in the Los Altos, Los Altos Hills and Mountain View and surrounding communities. It also provides the supervision and practicum requirements for interns pursuing licensing as Marriage & Family Therapists, Licensed Clinical Social Workers, Ph.D. and Psy.D. psychologists.

Income taxes

CHAC is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) and Section 23701(d) of the Internal Revenue Code and California Revenue and Taxation Code, respectively, and contributions to it are tax deductible. CHAC has been classified as a publicly supported organization that is not a private foundation.

CHAC has adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 740-10-25, Income Taxes, which requires that a tax position be recognized or derecognized based on a "more likely than not" threshold. This applies to positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. CHAC does not believe its financial statements include any uncertain tax positions.

CHAC is subject to potential examination by taxing authorities for income tax returns filed in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and the State of California. The tax years that remain subject to potential examination for the U.S. federal jurisdiction is June 30, 2013 and forward. The State of California tax jurisdiction is subject to potential examination for fiscal tax years June 30, 2012 and forward.

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Consequently, revenue and support is recognized when earned and expenses are recorded when the obligation is incurred and accordingly reflect all significant receivables, payables and other liabilities.

Financial statement presentation

CHAC presents information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets (unrestricted, temporarily restricted and permanently restricted) based upon the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Unrestricted net assets: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions. Temporarily restricted net assets that are released from restriction in the same period as received are presented as unrestricted net assets in these financial statements.

CHAC

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2016 and 2015

Note A - Nature of Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, continued

Board-designated restriction: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions that have been restricted by the Board for specific purposes. These funds may be disbursed at the discretion of the Board.

Temporarily restricted net assets: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations may or will be met, either by actions of CHAC and/or the passage of time. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Permanently restricted net assets: Net assets subject to permanent donor-imposed stipulations can be removed only by the donor. Currently, CHAC has no permanently restricted net assets.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable for amounts due from client fees and grants are carried at the original invoice amount less an estimate made for doubtful receivables based on a review of all outstanding amounts. Accounts receivable are written off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries of accounts receivable previously written off are recorded when received. Management has determined that no allowance for bad debts is required at June 30, 2016 and 2015.

CHAC has elected to record bad debt for client service fees using the direct write-off method. Generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) require that the allowance method be used to recognize bad debts; however, the effect of using the direct write-off method is not materially different from the results that would have been obtained under the allowance method.

Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable represent unconditional promises to give by donors. Current contributions receivable are expected to be collected during the next performance year and are recorded at net realizable value.

Fair value measurements

The estimated fair values of CHAC's short-term financial instruments, including cash, certificates of deposit, mutual funds, receivables, prepaid expenses, accounts payable and accrued liabilities arising in the ordinary course of business, approximate their individual carrying amounts due to the relatively short period of time between their origination and expected realization.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2016 and 2015

Note A - Nature of Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, continued

Investments

CHAC has a policy for its investments that provides for the use of socially responsible pooled funds and/or nationally recognized mutual funds, within a range of fixed income and growth and income investments. Earnings and income from the investments are available for CHAC operations. Investments in debt securities, and in equity securities that have readily determinable market values, are accounted for and reported at fair value. Investments received by gift are recorded at market value on the date of donation.

Dividends, interest and other investment income are reported in the period earned as an increase in unrestricted net assets unless the use of the income is limited by donor-imposed restrictions, in which case it is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets. Gains and losses on investments are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is temporarily or permanently restricted by donor, stipulation or law.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at historical cost. Assets received as donations are recorded at their estimated fair market value at the date of donation. If donors stipulate how long the assets must be used, the contributions are recorded as restricted support. In the absence of such stipulations, contributions of property and equipment are recorded as unrestricted support. Acquisitions of property and equipment of $2,000 or more are capitalized and depreciated using the straight-line method over their useful lives ranging from 3 to 39 years. Depreciation begins when the property and equipment is placed in service. Expenditures representing general maintenance and repairs are expensed in the year incurred.

Compensated absences

Accumulated unpaid employee vacation benefits are recognized as liabilities when employees have earned such compensated absences and to the extent that it is probable that these will be paid upon termination or retirement. CHAC's policy on sick leave benefits is to record amounts as operating expenses in the period sick leave is taken. As of June 30, 2016 and 2015, compensated absences liabilities were $86,043 and $129,356, respectively.

Contributions

Contributions are recognized in the period received and are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Grants to support CHAC's programs may be recorded as temporarily restricted revenues when received, if applicable, and released from those restrictions when the usage restrictions have been satisfied. Restricted contributions whose restrictions are met in the same reporting period are shown as unrestricted support.

CHAC

June 30, 2016 and 2015

Note A - Nature of Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, continued

Contributed services

Contributions of services are recognized when they are received if the services create or enhance nonfinancial assets, or require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not donated. Volunteers and interns contributed 31,896 and 31,802 hours for the years ended June 30, 2016 and 2015, respectively, as counselors and educators for the various programs sponsored by CHAC during those years. The estimated fair value of these contributed services recognized as revenues was $640,566 and $525,761 for the years ended June 30, 2016 and 2015, respectively. Additionally, no hours or value is recognized for office work volunteers. These services are not recognized in the accompanying financial statements because they neither require specialized skills nor would have been typically purchased had they not been donated. The value of these services is not readily determinable.

Functional allocation of expenses

CHAC allocates its expenses on a functional basis among its programs and support services. Expenses that can be identified with a specific program and support service are allocated directly according to their natural expenditure classification. Other expenses that are common to several functions are allocated based on payroll full-time equivalents.

Joint cost allocation

Expenses that have the result of furthering fundraising as well as the program and/or management functions are allocated based on the proportionate value of the expense to each function. Newsletters and certain special event costs are so allocated.

Reclassification

Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior years' financial statements to conform to the current year presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on previously reported change in net assets or net assets.

Note B - Concentration of Credit Risk

CHAC's bank accounts at certain financial institutions are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000 for interest bearing accounts and for an unlimited amount for non-interest bearing account. The cash accounts at a brokerage firm are insured by the Securities Investors Protection Corporation (SIPC) up to $250,000 and the securities are insured by the SIPC up to $500,000. Note D - Fair Value of Investments

Effective July 1, 2008, CHAC adopted FASB ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement and Disclosures, which provides a framework for measuring fair value under generally accepted accounting principles. ASC 820 applies to all financial instruments that are being measured and reported on a fair value basis.

As defined in ASC 820, fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. In determining fair value, CHAC uses various methods including market, income and cost approaches. Based on these approaches, CHAC often utilizes certain assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk and or the risks inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. These inputs can be readily observable, market corroborated, or generally unobservable inputs. CHAC utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. Based on the observability of the inputs used in the valuation techniques, CHAC is required to provide the following information according to the fair value hierarchy. The fair value hierarchy ranks the quality and reliability of the information used to determine fair values. Financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value will be classified and disclosed in one of the following three categories:

Level 1 — Valuations for assets and liabilities traded in active exchange markets, such as the New York Stock Exchange. Level 1 also includes U.S. Treasury and federal agency securities and federal agency mortgage-backed securities, which are traded by dealers or brokers in active markets. Valuations are obtained from readily available pricing sources for market transactions involving identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 — Valuations for assets and liabilities traded in less active dealer or broker markets. Valuations are obtained from third party pricing services for identical or similar assets or liabilities.

Level 3 — Valuations for assets and liabilities that are derived from other valuation methodologies, including option pricing models, discounted cash flow models and similar techniques, and not based on market exchange, dealer, or broker traded transactions. Level 3 valuations incorporate certain assumptions and projections in determining the fair value assigned to such assets or liabilities.

Note D - Fair Value of Investments, continued

The following is a description of the valuation methodology used for certain instruments measured at fair value:

Community Foundation investment pool

The Community Foundation is based on pricing and valuations using prices from the custodian bank and its pricing vendors, quarterly and audited financial statements from managers of private equity and hedge funds, and through initial and ongoing due diligence and monitoring by the investment and the Community Foundation's consultant, staff and investment committee. CHAC's fair value of the investment in the Community Foundation is based on reviewing and monitoring the Community Foundation valuation and assessing if the fair value is reasonable.

The table below presents the balances of investments measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the hierarchy:

Note G - Contingent Liabilities

State grants and contracts require the fulfillment of certain conditions as set forth in the terms of the contract or grant award agreement, and are subject to audit by the grantor. Failure to comply with these conditions could result in the return of funds to the grantor. Although it is a possibility, CHAC believes that it has complied with the conditions of its contracts and grant award agreements, and no significant liabilities will result from audit.

Note I - Endowments and Net Asset Classifications

CHAC's endowment consisted of funds designated by the Board of Directors to function as endowments. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Directors to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. The Board designated those net assets to function as a Board endowment. The Board designated endowment had similar goals as did the permanently restricted endowment fund, with the preservation of the principal or corpus being the main objective. During the fiscal year, the Board of Directors removed the designated funds from endowment.

Return objectives and risk parameters

CHAC had adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted funds that CHAC must hold in perpetuity or for a donor-specified period(s) as well as Board-designated funds. CHAC expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average unrealized and realized combined rate of return of approximately 7 percent annually. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Strategies employed for achieving objectives

To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, CHAC relied on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). CHAC targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investment to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints. CHAC expects its corpus to increase by 2% each year.

Spending policy and how the investment objectives relate to spending policy

CHAC had a policy of evaluating whether funds should be appropriated for distribution each year during its budget process. In establishing this policy, CHAC considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, CHAC expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of 2 percent annually. If the endowment funds provide an average rate of return of approximately 7 percent annually, as stated above, then this would allow approximately 5 percent of its fair market value to be prudently spent towards its operating expenses. If during the budget process, it is determined that this money is not needed for the upcoming year, it remains unrestricted for use in subsequent years. This is consistent with CHAC's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term as well as to provide additional growth through new gifts and investment return.
